MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Senator Henry Jackson's Interest in July Moscow Meeting Between American and Soviet Scientists

1. Richard Perle, of Senator Jackson's Subcommittee staff, told me today that the Senator was concerned over reports of freewheeling conversations between American and Soviet scientists in Moscow between 10 and 12 July 1972. Senator Jackson understands that some of the American participants talked quite freely and indiscreetly, to an extent which might weaken the U.S. position and forthcoming SALT negotiations. The American participants reportedly included: Panofsky, Dota, Ruina, Shulman, Rathjens, Vance (Cy?), Harold Brown and Frank Long. The Soviets supposedly involved were: Millionshchikov, Vinogradov, Inozentzev, Arbatov, Emelyanov, Sokolov, Shustov, and Smollin. The interpreters were: Pochitalin, Vares and Reznikov.

2. Mr. Perle said Senator Jackson's office hopes to have more details in the next couple of days.

3. Meanwhile they would like traces on the above Russians. 25X1
